

The Examiner.

January 23, 2008

ON THE MOVE

» Jaiwon Shin has been named as NASA's associate administrator for the Aeronautics Research Mission Directorate in Washington. Prior to this appointment, Shin served as the deputy associate administrator for aeronautics. Before coming to NASA Headquarters in 2004, Shin served as chief of the aeronautics projects office at NASA's Glenn Research Center in Cleveland.

» McLean-based Science Applications International Corp. announced that J. Robert Beyster, SAIC founder, former chairman and chief executive officer, was selected for induction as a lifetime member of the Horatio Alger Association of Distinguished Americans. Beyster is chairman of the Foundation for Enterprise Development, a nonprofit organization he founded in 1986. Additionally, Laura Luke has joined the company as vice president, media relations. Previously, Luke served as director, corporate communications for Fairfax-based SRA International Inc.

» Rockville-based IT service software company Triumfant announced Guy Curtis, rear admiral, U.S. Navy (ret.), Bob Gourley, former chief technology officer of the Defense Intelligence Agency, and Alan Wade, former chief information officer of the Central Intelligence Agency, have joined the company's Advisory Board. Curtis currently manages his own government and technology consulting business, which he founded in 2002. Gourley is the founder of Crucial Point LLC, a technology research and advisory firm. Wade retired from federal service in 2005 after a 35-year career in the Central Intelligence Agency.

» Robert F. Danbeck has been named associate administrator for the Small Business Administration's Office of Management and Administration. Danbeck has held senior positions at the U.S. Office of Personnel Management and at IBM. He recently served as managing director of Retirement Systems Modernization at OPM.

» Fairfax-based QinetiQ North America's Mission Solutions Group has named Keith Rhodes senior vice president and chief technology officer. Most recently, Rhodes was the chief technologist and director for the Government Accountability Office's Center for Technology and Engineering. QinetiQ provides technology services to U.S. government clients.

» SRA International Inc. has appointed Timothy J. Atkin as senior vice president and Mike Toner as vice president and chief financial officer of its new Global Health Sector organization. Atkin was previously SRA senior vice president, Civil Sector. He is a former member of the Senior Executive Service at the U.S. Department of Labor and served twice on the White House staff at the National Security Council and at the Office of National Drug Control Policy.

» Steve Oswald, a retired U.S. Naval Reserve rear admiral and former astronaut, was named vice president and general manager of Boeing's new Intelligence and Security Systems operating division. Oswald will be based in the Washington area. Brian Knutsen was named vice president of Boeing Mission Systems, a program area within the new Intelligence and Security Systems division of Network and Space Systems. Knutsen previously served as general manager of Mission Systems when it was part of the Space and Intelligence Systems division. Knutsen is based in Springfield.